It is a reproach to zoology that the subject of animal ecology should lag so far behind that of plant ecology. When zoologists fully awaken to a realization of what a fallow field lies here, this reproach will quickly be wiped out.

"It is often said that the factors of evolution are inheritance and variation. In the new century careful and quantitative studies will be made on these factors."

"Summing up his predictions, Professor Carpenter said they were in general:

"First—Students of the science will cling closer to inductive methods without abandoning deduction. Speculative web-spinning will be less common, will be less attractive, and will be more avoided by naturalists of repute. Great generalizations will be made of course, but made with caution and founded at every step on facts.

"Second—The science will deal more with processes and less with static phenomena; more with causes and less with accumulation of data. The time is coming when the naturalist who merely describes what he sees in his sections will have neither more nor less claim for consideration than he who describes a new variety of animal. It is relations, not facts, that count.

"Third—The science will become experimental, at least in so far as it deals with processes. Nothing will be taken for granted that can be experimentally tested. Better experimental laboratories will be founded, and larger experimental stations, such as Bacon foresaw in the new world, will be established.

"Fourth—The science will become more quantitative. This is the inexorable law of scientific progress at least where processes are concerned."

Other papers were read by Vice President Brashear upon "the Carnegie Technical School," and by Vice President Butler upon a "Notable Factor in Social Degeneracy."

The American Chemical society of the association met this afternoon and the members were welcomed by Franklin Guiterman of Denver on behalf of the chemists of Colorado. Vice President Long replied with appropriate words for the visitors, and Professor W. Clark, president of the American Chemical society, replied to the welcome of the local chemists on behalf of his organization.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to the appointing of committees and the reading of papers, all of which were more or less of a technical nature. Among those who were admitted into the society this afternoon were Professor L. B. Skinner of Colorado Springs.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 the session of the American Forestry association will be called to order. This is one of the largest and will be one of the most important sessions of the meeting, for it will deal directly with those subjects which are of interest to every westerner who believes in the preservation of the forests for the effect upon the problem of irrigation. The address of welcome will be delivered by Senator T. M. Patterson. During the session addresses will be delivered by William L. Hall, superintendent of tree planting in the bureau of forestry; Professor Clifford of the department of agriculture and Professor Griffith of the bureau of forestry. The latter's address will be on the Black Hills reserve. This reserve contains 1,215,004 acres and was established in 1898 and is the first of the federal government's reservations.

LOG ROLLING WILL BE HERE NEXT YEAR

The next annual log rolling of the Woodmen of the World of the Eighteenth district will be held in this city. This decision was made at a meeting in Pueblo last night of one of the executive bodies of the order.

The log rolling of the Woodmen of district No. 18 of the order was held recently at Pueblo. Several towns sought the celebration for next August, the contest finally being between Colorado Springs and Lamar. It was settled last night in favor of this city, with the understanding that Lamar will get it in 1903.

The new trust company is now completing its organization. Its offices will be in the Mining Exchange building, on the ground floor, where a large vault and safety deposit boxes will be provided.

Of this number 24 were from Denver, five from Pueblo, two from Leadville, five from Cripple Creek and two from Cheyenne. The grand lodge was called to order by Supreme Chancellor Johnson of Denver, who introduced William Harris of this city as the presiding officer. The committee on credentials was then named as follows: F. E. Watson of Cripple Creek; Judge Kennedy of Leadville and A. B. Watson of Pueblo. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Grand past chancellor, Gertrude Caldwell of Pueblo; grand chancellor, D. A. Mills of Denver; grand regent, Mrs. M. C. Watson of Pueblo; grand orator, Mrs. Nora Downer of Leadville; grand guide, W. H. Hedley of Denver; grand recorder, H. C. Fairall of Denver; grand financier, Mrs. E. A. Hosford of Denver; grand warden, John R. Nowby of Cripple Creek, and grand pianist, Minnie Wight of Cripple Creek. The committee on resolutions consists of L. A. VanDorn of Denver and A. B. The Lincoln Republican club has secured large and commodious quarters on the floor of the Wilbur block on Second street and Carr avenue. The first meeting to be held in the new hall will be on Wednesday evening. The Republican county central committee will probably meet on Saturday evening on the call of Chairman Charles Wells. The Republican party in Teller county is in a more prosperous condition at the present time than ever before in its history. Many new members are being taken into the Lincoln Republican club at every meeting and when the fall campaign opens the club will prove an important factor in the result.

The largest criminal bond in the history of Colorado was this morning accepted by Sheriff Stewart for the appearance in the district court of Grant Crumley, who shot and killed Samuel Strong. Under Sheriff Harrigan examined the records in the assessor's office and convinced himself that the sureties were good. The bond in which Mr. Crumley was admitted was in the sum of $50,000, and was signed by K. B. Wiley, $15,000; Joe H. Finley, $5,000; W. O. Burnside, $5,000; J. C. Watt and S. ... McConnell, $20,000. Each signer of the bond is a business man in this city and all are members of the B. P. O. E. lodge. The bond states that Grant Crumley is charged with murder and that he is to appear in the district court of the Fourth judicial district on September 8 to answer the charge preferred against him.

Col. Armstrong B. Place, one of the best-known mining men in the district, died of hepatitis this morning at 7 o'clock at his home in this city. Deceased was 55 years of age and came to Cripple Creek from Denver in 1892. In Denver Mr. Place was prominent politically and held the office of city treasurer during the period that Wolfe Londoner was mayor. He was a member of the Denver post G. A. R. and his remains will be shipped to that city tomorrow for burial. Mrs. Place, the widow, will accompany the remains. The local G. A. R. post will turn out in a body and conduct the remains to the depot. Deceased leaves a wife and three children. A few weeks ago he suffered a severe fall in the Xenia shaft in Poverty gulch, but had all but recovered from his injury when an abscess caused his death.

Mayor Crane and members of the city council left early this morning for the Seven lakes on Pike's Peak to investigate Edgar E. Wade's proposition for a municipal water plant for Cripple Creek. If the council considers the proposition in a favorable light it will pass an ordinance for a special election at which the taxpayers of Cripple Creek will decide the question. If the taxpayers decide that they want a municipal water works system, $600,000 worth of bonds will have to be sold.

In the county court today John H. Weber commenced action for divorce from Lillian Weber upon the ground of desertion. The couple were married at Richfield, Utah, February 20, 1894.

A warranty deed was filed in the county clerk's office today in which the Newton Lumber Co. transferred to the Frees and Hill Lumber Co. in consid- ... and part of 36 in block 20, city of Cripple Creek; lots from 23 to 28 inclusive and parts of lots 29 and 30 in block 5, city of Cripple Creek, and lots 12 and 13, block 15, in town of Independence.

The Cripple Creek Mine and Supply Co. filed its intention in the county clerk's office today of claiming a lien on the Red Jacket, Home, George Peabody, Little Ethel, Mary B., Cristina, Bright Star, Lora Lee and Lance lode claims, the property of A. A. Bancroft of Pittsburg. The Supply company alleges that there is due it $250,00 for supplies.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary Harfat, who died on Saturday night of typhoid fever, were conducted this afternoon at Dyer's undertaking parlor by Rev. Lampkin of the Christian church. MILLIONAIRES IN FINE FORM

Turned the Tables Yesterday on St. Paul.

WON A SLUGGING MATCH

Made a Total of Nineteen Hits and Played a Snappy Game in the Field.

The Millionaires turned the tables on the Apostles yesterday and defeated them in a slugging match by a score of 11 to 3. The visitors opened the game with Cunningham in the box, and his record for the first inning will give some idea of his style of twirling. He allowed three bases on balls, four hits and two wild pitches.

Then he repeated the present in the second, and started out generously in the third when Jimmy Ryan thought it time to make a change, and came in from the left garden to take the place of the munificent twirler. Cogan went to the field and Ryan began his stunts. The wealthy men soon found his curves and pounded him all over the field, bunching the hits in the sixth inning for four runs.

Parvin pitched in fair form and though he allowed 11 hits he kept them well scattered, and the visitors crossed the plate only three times. He held the game safe at all times, but the credit for the victory is due in large degree to the snappy play of the infield. Tannehill covered the third bag well, and Hollingsworth gathered in everything which came near shortstop.

Bandelin started out as usual with a safe hit, Hernon walked and Hemphill did likewise. Holland placed a pretty single in right field and two runs came in. Tannehill singled to Ryan, Holland scored on a wild pitch. O'Connell and Hollingsworth hit safe, and Hernon crossed the plate for Tannehill on Donahue's out at deep center.

In the second inning Parvin lined out a single over second, Bandelin sacrificed, Hernon walked and Hemphill hit safe to left field, scoring Donahue, who ran for Parvin. Hernon came in while Hemphill was dodging back and forth between first and second.

The wealthy men took another batting streak in the sixth and netted four runs. Donahue started with a two-bagger to left field and scored when Bandelin singled to center. Hernon drove a hot grounder through third and short and Hemphill brought in the runners by a beautiful three-bagger between center and right, scoring later on Holland's out to Dillard.

Ryan and Brain scored in the second half on a single and three-bagger, and Kelly's sacrifice to shortstop. Parvin gave Brain a base on balls after two men were out in the eighth, and he scored the last run of the game on singles by Kelly and Schaefer.

The locals put up the best game in the infield that has been witnessed here in some time. The play was interesting and showed that the men were trying to win out, a feature which has been sadly lacking in recent games. The timely hitting of the Millionaires was the most noticeable point in the game.

PITCHERS IN GOOD FORM

Jones Had the Best of It, However, and Denver Played Good Ball—Visitors Wrangled With the Umpire.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Aug. 26.—Denver made it five straight from Minneapolis today by timely hitting and splendid fielding. Both pitchers were in fine form, although Whitridge was somewhat erratic, giving five bases on balls. He struck out nine men. The visitors were sorely disappointed over their defeat and quarreled constantly with the umpire like a lot of school boys. This makes 15 games Denver has won out of the last 17 played and 13 straight wins. The score:

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Suit Against Dr. Work—Judge Gibson Recovering—Possible Ball Team.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Pueblo, Aug. 26.—Adelaide Roberson filed suit in the district court today against Hubert Work, proprietor of Work's private sanitarium for insane, W. L. Rees, ex-chairman of the board of county commissioners and Mrs. J. S. Sperry, Pueblo agents for the Colorado Humane society for $25,000 damages. Miss Roberson made some startling allegations in the complaint. She claims that Mrs. Sperry induced her to enter Dr. Work's sanitarium for the purpose of treatment and rest, and that thereafter she was forcibly detained, Dr. Work claiming that she was insane. She says that Mr. Rees as chairman of the county commissioners paid $1 a day for her support, although she was required to do work at the sanitarium which more than covered the cost of her maintenance; she also alleges that the sanitarium attendants destroyed letters that she wrote to her folks; that she was put in a dark cell and that one of the attendants choked her. Miss Roberson was adjudged sane by a jury in the county court about a year ago and has since been living with her relatives in Texas.

Frank Arkins of Cripple Creek and J. I. Lawless of Lamar, president of the Arkansas Valley Press association held a conference in Pueblo today and made arrangements for another junket of the newspaper men. They will leave Denver Saturday, January 18 and will take a trip to old Mexico. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the junket.

Tom Lind, a motorman, was trying to fix a broken trolley this morning and received a bad shock. His injuries are not serious.

The mystery surrounding the assault upon Judge L. B. Gibson has not yet been cleared up and the police have now little hope of capturing the assailant. Judge Gibson's condition is improving daily and he will soon be able to be out.

Pueblo baseball fans are talking of a rumor that "Big Bill" Everitt, first baseman and captain of the Denver ball team, will manage a team in Pueblo in the Western league next year. Everitt will spend the winter in Pueblo.

C. L. Hendershot, special agent for the general land office, is preparing a report on uncompleted homestead claims in the Las Animas Forest reserve, which was withdrawn from settlement last January. At that time there were 50 uncompleted homestead claims, and if any of these are found to be in the slightest way defective, they will be thrown out.

Frank Howard went to Love yesterday for the purpose of surveying some claims, and while he was at work James DeSherrie, who claims to own the land on which Howard was at work, came and ordered him off. A fight followed in which it is alleged that DeSherrie struck Howard with a pick handle. Howard today swore out a warrant in Justice McGarry's court, charging DeSherrie with assault.

E. J. Perkins of this city has been arrested for securing provisions from local grocers under false pretenses. Perkins is charged with assuming the name of J. E. Perkins of Anaconda in securing groceries to the amount of a couple of hundred dollars. The grocers who made the complaint are anxious to get their money and friends of Perkins are trying to secure sums to pay them so that they will not prosecute Perkins.

The stone for Victor's new opera house has been selected. A visit was paid yesterday by Architect Higgins to the Canterbury quarries between this city and Canon City. At the quarries the architect found the stone he wanted. The stone selected is white and a test shows 98 per cent silica with no trace of lime. Shipments will be commenced at once. The stone for the foundation will be secured from the hill just west of Cripple Creek.

BOTH CLAIM THE VICTORY

Steel Officials Point to Gains All Along the Line.

STRIKERS STILL CONFIDENT

Painter Plant With Six Mills Has Resumed—Mayor of McKeesport Fined a Workman.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 26.—Reported peace negotiations for the settlement of the strike through the mediation of disinterested parties, officials and members of the National Civic Federation received a jolt when President Theodore Shaffer of the Amalgamated association tonight declared absolutely that he had no official knowledge of such proceedings and that if such a move had been started it did not have the official sanction of the organization.

Nevertheless the subject will not down and tonight it is said the conciliatory committee of the Civic Federation, already prominent in the matter, is fully prepared to carry on negotiations and will if necessary endeavor to secure the good offices of Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Potter, Daniel Hanna and Seth Low, co-members of their organization, to give such prominence to the committee that the proposal will be received by the Steel corporation.

In the meantime both sides to the controversy make claims of a victory. The steel people point to the gains they have made all along the line in the way of securing men and starting plants, while the Amalgamated officials say that instead of losing ground the association is gaining every day and that while the combine has succeeded in starting a few plants they are not turning out merchantable material and are losing money and breaking valuable machinery and in the end will have to ask their old men to come to the rescue.

The steel people ridicule the claims of the association and point to the failure to induce the South Chicago and Duquesne men to go on strike, as an evidence that the strength of the Amalgamated association has departed. The officials say the only plants at which they expect difficulty are at Star and the Lindsay and McCutcheon, but they expect to overcome all troubles there and have the mills running full at an early date.

The surprise of the day was the starting of the Painter plant with six mills, the same mills that were running when the strike began. Not a striker could be found anywhere near the mill.

"We started this morning with six mills running full," said Superintendent Harper. "Week before last we began with two mills which we kept running all that week on day turn. Last week we added two more mills, also keeping them running on day turn. This morning we added two more mills, making six in all. About 90 per cent. of the men now working in the plant are old men, quite a lot of them strikers."

The report from Wheeling tonight is that the manager of the Aetna Standard sheet plate of the American Sheet Steel company has received orders from the general officers to dismantle sheet mill No. 1 and ship the machinery to Vandergrift, Pa. The work of dismantling will be commenced at once.

The strikers at Wellsville are jubilant tonight over the official news coming to them from Irondale. ... reports say that all of the men who have been working in the mill except Ira and Harry Householder, refused to go back to work and have reinstated in the Amalgamated lodge. These two men with the addition of James and Harry Hindman constituted the entire working force of the mill today. These four men make one half of one crew, requiring eight men to man a tin mill. One mill was working today with this partial crew, the remainder of the plant being idle.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Proceedings in Anderson Cases—A Chair of Pedagogy at Denver University.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, Aug. 26.—Despite the protest of nearly the entire community, not directly connected with cases, Judge Mullins has decided to proceed with the trial of the alleged Anderson jury bribers. The court was to have convened at ten o'clock this morning, but the judge was out of the city and wired that he could not be present until two p. m. The telegram did not arrive until about ten o'clock and a large number of men who had been summoned as prospective jurymen were present and the delay caused them considerable annoyance. The bailiffs have been serving subpoenas since Saturday morning and when court convened at ten o'clock to... cluded such men as George Ady, Phillip Feldhauser, John R. Griffith and a host of others equally prominent. The afternoon was spent in selecting a venire and it is not thought a jury will be selected for at least two days.

By agreement between the district attorney and Attorney Taylor the third trial of Anderson will take place immediately following the jury cases. Judge Mullins will announce the judge to try Anderson in a few days. The expense of the special venire that is being summoned will be very heavy.

The endowment of the chair of pedagogy at the Denver university is an assured fact, according to Bishop Henry Warren of the Methodist church. Who has endowed the chair is a carefully guarded secret. Bishop Warren says that the attendance of 1,000 students is expected. The endowment fund for the chair is $50,000.

An epidemic of pink eye is raging in Denver and horsemen are very much concerned about the matter. It has been flourishing in Chicago some time but only became noticeable in this city during the past two weeks.

An elevator in the new tramway power house broke this morning and fell three stories. ... were three men in the cage but no one was seriously wounded. John Solomon, one of the men escaped without a scratch. Wm. B. Roby had his left knee cap fractured; James M. Tison received a severe shock.

A special to the Post from Boulder says: "Ferry Abels, the man who was shot Saturday night by Mrs. Peter Lamm died at the hospital at 9:15 last night. Witnesses of the shooting and a coroner's jury have been subpoenaed for tomorrow morning.

"Mrs. Lamm voluntarily surrendered herself this morning and is now lodged in the county jail. No action will be taken looking to the apprehension of her husband nor of Charley Beck until after the coroner's inquest. It is known and admitted, however, by the defendant that her husband and Beck accompanied her to the house of Abels and that they stood with her when she delivered the fatal shot. It was Beck who told her husband that Abels had boasted of his intimate relations with her. It was Beck's revolver which Mrs. Lamm used. Beck and Lamm were interested in the same business, namely the hauling of logs from the mountains to the saw mills."

During a negro fight at 1930 Larimer street this morning Elsie Ray shot Fletcher Bradford. She fired six times at him but only two shots took effect, neither of which will prove serious. Jealousy caused the shooting.

The financial statement of the Denver Tramway company for July and for the first seven months of the year shows large increase in business.

MANSIONS WITNESSES COULD NOT BE FOUND

The case of the People vs Torrey and Letton proprietors of the Mansions for the alleged sale of liquor without a license came up before Judge ... o clock and after much legal sparring was postponed until September 25 The hearing attracted much attention and a large crowd remained in the court room during the long session

At 10 o clock Attorney Kriger for the town asked for a reading of the list of witnesses who had been subpoenaed Only two out of ten witnesses answered to the roll call By order of the court writs were issued to bring in the missing men and a recess was taken until 11 30 o clock At that hour no new witnesses were brought in but one of the two witnesses who was present at 10 o clock was absent

It was decided to adjourn the court until 2 o clock In the meantime the marshal was told to get all the witnesses that he could find

The 2 o clock session was of the same drawn out kind The attorney for the prosecution drew up an affidavit which stated that he had used due diligence to bring his witnesses before the court, but had been unsuccessful He further stated that the evidence which he hoped to prove by the witnesses was material for the interests of his case and that the officers of the law had not neglected their duty in the case

The witnesses and their present places of residence were given in the affidavit

The court granted an extension of time in the case until the depositions of the missing witnesses could be taken or the men located September 25 was agreed on as the day for the trial.

The case is being hotly contested There are three suspended sentences of $100 each hanging over the proprietors of the Mansions house Should the defendants lose in this case these would probably be brought up The legal array is strong Judge Alexander and Attorneys Lewis and Widdicombe of Colorado Springs represent the defense ... Attorney Kriger represents the prosecution.

The case of the town against the Arcade club comes up this morning at 10 o clock

Helen is one of five children in the family. She was playing alone in the yard when last seen by her parents about 6 30 o clock When her father went to call her for supper she was gone Mrs Frantz remembered having seen two strange men pass the house a moment before and says she fears they took the little one away

An inquiry was made among the neighbors and no one could be found who saw Helen Mr Frantz notified the police and they too failed to find any trace of her

The father came to the Gazette office and inserted a lost add in the hope that it would result in the finding of the child He said he thought that was the best way to find anything lost.

PROSPERITY IN COLORADO.

THE GAZETTE begins this morning the publication of its new department, information about Colorado, which will hereafter appear regularly on Tuesday morning. The main feature of the department today is a series of clippings from various papers arranged alphabetically by counties. These clippings give an idea of the activity that is prevailing in all sections of the state and the great improvements being made in the agricultural sections. A few years, or even a few months, ago it would have been utterly impossible to have made any such showing as this. The material for it did not exist, and it would have required diligent searching to have collected even a few paragraphs of the sort that occupy columns of space in this Gazette.

The times have changed in Colorado. Farmers no longer raise crops to sell at starvation prices or to throw away because they could not be sold. There is a good market for all kinds of farm produce in all parts of the state. There is also a demand for farms to rent, and the beginning of a market for farms that are for sale.

These improvements in the agricultural districts are supplemented by marked changes for the better in all the little towns that depend upon the agricultural regions for their support. The merchants in every line are doing a better business than they were a few years ago, and the professional men are sharing in the general prosperity. No class of people are better aware of the general prosperity throughout the state than the traveling men and it is a source of common remark among them that Colorado as a whole is showing a notable improvement and advancement. The towns and the villages are rapidly increasing in population and there is hardly an exception to the rule that from every railroad station in the state new houses and new stores are visible.

The larger cities almost without exception are equally fortunate in their conditions. Throughout the state there is the same story of insufficient accommodations for business and residence, of new enterprises involving the investment of large sums of money, of many newcomers seeking for opportunities under the favorable conditions of Colorado.

One of the most favorable indications of the times is the number of persons in Colorado Springs and elsewhere who are seeking information in regard to Colorado and its various resources. It is the desire of the people of this city to afford to all our visitors the fullest possible information and to encourage in every possible way the building up of all parts of the state.

We believe that the publication of this new department will result in very marked benefit to many sections of the state, that it will increase immigration, promote the tourist business, and aid in making known to the world the wealth and resources of the state. To this end we invite the co-operation of our exchanges and our readers.

THE LOUISIANA EXPOSITION.

THE Philadelphia Ledger comments upon the importance of the St. Louis exposition and its rank among world's fairs as follows: "The world's fair to be opened at St. Louis on May 1, 1903, to commemorate the centennial of the purchase of the Louisiana territory, may now be said to have full official existence. Congress at its last session set the seal of its approval on the project by appropriating $5,000,000 towards the expenses, and $250,000 besides for the erection and care of a government building. The Exposition company having complied with all the requirements of the act of congress, President McKinley has issued a proclamation to all the nations of the earth to participate by sending representatives and exhibits of their natural and manufactured products.

"The proclamation is short but the wording of it leaves no room for doubt of the importance of the project it treats of. The document, in effect, contains a pledge that the exposition will be opened in the city of St. Louis on May 1, 1903, and will be closed not later than December 1 of the same year. As the purchase of the Louisiana territory was an event of the greatest importance in the history of the development of the country, the president considers that it is eminently fitting that all nations should take part in commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the transaction. Our merchants and producers should now awaken to the fact that an exposition of colossal magnitude is being undertaken in St. Louis, and that a sense of national pride, as well as personal advantage, should impel them to take an active part in giving the world an object lesson in the extent of the resources and industries of the country, and its progress in civilization.

"Coincident with the president's proclamation a statement is made by the chairman of the architects and directors [illegible] of the new enterprise will exceed $30,000,000, and that without doubt it will exceed in size, scope, beauty of buildings and grounds any exhibition hitherto held in any part of the world. The financial part of the undertaking appears to be assured, for already $16,000,000 of the sum required are in hand. Of this the United States contributes $5,000,000; St. Louis, $5,000,000; Missouri, $1,000,000, and the subscriptions to date exceed $5,000,000 more. Eleven hundred acres of the most picturesque land around St. Louis have been set apart for the exposition grounds, and 640 acres of this are to be occupied by buildings and other attractions. These figures indicate that the Louisiana Purchase exposition will hold about the same relative position toward the Columbian exposition as that vast enterprise in Chicago held toward the Centennial exhibition in this city. The sooner this is realized throughout the country the better it will be for the enterprising merchants, manufacturers and producers."

These glowing words of appreciation from a most conservative eastern newspaper are a sufficient evidence of the importance of the St. Louis exposition. It should certainly be the aim of every eastern state, and especially those included within the limits of the Louisiana territory, to be suitably represented at this magnificent centennial celebration.

ART IN COLORADO SPRINGS.

THE SHOWING made in the article on the Van Briggle pottery which appeared in last Sunday's Gazette was doubtless a surprise to many persons in this city who had failed to realize the opportunity that exists here for art work of the highest order and the extent to which these opportunities are being improved by artists who are being attracted here by the atmosphere of art appreciation and patronage.

Similarly it seems to have been a revelation to some people when the handsome cover of the Quarto-centennial Gazette brought to their attention such an artist in painting as Mr. Charles Craig, who is in fact numbered among our pioneer citizens and who still retains his studio in this city.

In music we have the excellent showing made by that department in Colorado college in recent years and the earnest and effective work of the Musical club.

There is every reason to believe that in the future more than in the past Colorado Springs will be an art center, both in interest and in production, for the development of an art atmosphere among our own people will infallibly result in drawing thither an increased number of artists of real ability. Situated as we are, with such favorable local conditions as now exist and with the excellent beginnings already made Colorado Springs ought to become an art center of recognized standing and one that will have an acknowledged leadership and a powerful influence in the artistic development of the western United States.

TAIL TWISTING AND TAIL PLUCKING.

FOR MANY years past tail-twisting has been regarded as an allowable if not wholly legitimate amusement of the American politician. The Irish vote was a considerable factor in American politics, and it was considered a popular course to abuse the British lion. At first the oversea newspapers were inclined to regard this as a manifestation of real unfriendliness, but they soon learned that it meant nothing more than a cheap political trick to gain favor with unintelligent voters.

Just at present we are evidently about to experience a similar practice from a different source, and it is the American eagle instead of the British lion that is to be the victim. American competition is a serious matter with farmers and manufacturers of many European countries. For some years past the German politicians have found it to be to their interest to affect an attitude of hostility towards things American and now the Austrians and the French find it to be good policy in local politics to pull an occasional tail feather from the great American bird.

We have all heard that turn about is fair play, and certainly there is no reason why Americans should take seriously the sort of criticism that we are receiving from Europe. It really does us no particular harm and it seems to amuse them, and we are in much better condition to stand it than they are.

It remains to be seen whether the people of Europe will take this talk of their politicians with as much good sense as the people of the United States have shown under similar circumstances. All the tail-twisting in this country has not interrupted the pacific course of our diplomatic relations with the United Kingdom because we as well as they have understood that it was merely talk. Possibly the Europeans may not be so sensible or intelligent and in that case the tail-plucking process may lead to serious misunderstandings.

CENTURY CHEST CONTEST COMMITTEE.

THE GAZETTE takes pleasure in announcing that the following named persons have consented to act as a contest committee and to award the prizes offered by the Gazette for the best account of the opening of the Century chest:

Mr. Louis R. Ehrich,
Mrs. F. W. Goddard,
Rev. Edward Braislin.

As already announced, articles intended for this competition must be handed in to the Gazette office not later than Saturday, August 31.

The prize-winning article and such others as may be recommended by the committee will be published in the Gazette.

If the interview with Captain Forsythe published in yesterday's Gazette is authentic there is certainly good ground for censure. It was clearly against the order of Secretary Long, and unless Captain Forsythe can prove he never said it there is trouble ahead for him. It hardly seems possible that a naval officer could have been guilty of so great an indiscretion.

The United States has a long arm, as Aguinaldo found to his cost, and now Traitor Howard, who has been leading Filipino insurgents against the Americans, realizes the same thing. Probably he was not greatly surprised to find himself dragged out from among his native followers without their knowledge for no one has had a better opportunity to understand the difference between his former and his recent companions in arms.

The local chamber of commerce requests all carriage owners to assist in entertaining visiting members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science next Saturday. Owners are requested to drive their teams themselves and to act as guides and to notify the secretary of their willingness to assist in this way.

Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona should be admitted to the union at the next session of congress. They are all eligible for membership in the union, and there should be no discrimination on account of politics.

The latest capture of Filipinos netted 17 officers and 13 privates. And it wasn't a very good day for officers, [illegible]

The tourist season at Manitou has been unusually successful. With a big first-class modern hotel Manitou would very quickly assume its rightful position as the unrivaled leader of all western summer resorts.

A visitor in this city of some prominence and good judgment says that Colorado City has the best prospects of any Colorado city that he knows of, and the Gazette is not at all disposed to dispute his assertion.

If farm products continue to rise in price city dwellers will have to sell their automobiles to the farmers to get money enough to pay grocery bills.

Colorado Springs has been the liveliest city in the state all summer and it is going to keep on all winter on the same track.

Since the villainy of the mosquito has been so conclusively proven we wish it understood that we never did like the little brutes anyhow.

The prize Century chest story contest closes next Saturday night.

OPEN PARLIAMENT.

Trusts or "Industrials."

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Dear Sir—The trust question has an aspect which has not received the attention due to it in the discussion that has taken up so much space in the press of the country and in the Congressional Record in the past few years. The evil of the trust as a menace to the public in the ordinary dealings of business and as an impending power that may unduly influence the deliberations and actions of legislatures has mainly occupied the minds of speakers and writers on this absorbing topic. The trust as an agency by which to exact higher prices for its products has been presented in the most forcible language, in which it is depicted as a dread tyrant and oppressor of the poor, crushing its victims beneath its feet, insensible to their suffering as a juggernaut. Much of the language in the discussion is rhetorical display for the special use of the orator or the unspoken speech in the Congressional Record. When not of this character it assumes the form of elaborate analytical consideration of the economic principles involved and the disturbance to be apprehended from great accumulations of wealth in few hands. Capital is said to be sensitive. It is probably quite as sensitive in large blocks as in small holdings. The instances in which prices have been oppressively advanced are few and there are cases in which combination was an actual necessity to save manufacturers from embarrassment, as in that of the envelope makers a few years ago, who had long been making envelopes at a loss.

This letter is not designed for an argument in defense of trusts, but to show that the discussion has kept wide of one of the most vital and active stimulants to trust formation. The vast majority of trusts have their origin in something wholly aside from the necessities of manufacturers. It is only a few years since there appeared on the stock exchange lists of the country a group of speculative securities known as "industrials." They are mainly stocks based on combined manufactories capitalized to the utmost limit of their profitable production, and frequently beyond that. The aggregate amount of these stocks is enormous, and they were put on the market at a large profit to the promoters, who frequently left them to their fate, to be tossed up and down on the turbulent sea of stock speculation. Many have sunk to rise no more and disappeared from the stock lists utterly. But somebody has probably picked up the factories on which the stocks were based and is running them with legitimate profits, while the trust has gone to limbo, leaving a painful vacuum in many pockets. "Industrials" as a general thing are trust stocks.

A brief history of an unsuccessful attempt to form a glove trust may illustrate the subject. There are many small glove factories in the country, which on a small investment for plant, do a large and profitable business. Their chief need for capital is to buy [illegible]. A Chicago promoter thought this industry furnished the elements for a trust. He estimated the plants throughout the country at five millions of dollars, and he proposed to buy them and stock them for twenty millions! The owners were to be paid the five millions in cash, or stock, or both. If the promoter succeeded in buying them and should sell the remainder of the stock at 50 cents, even, he would clear two and a half millions. But the glove makers were doing better with their plants in their own hands and refused to sell. Here was a case where no need of the manufacturers existed to form a trust. It was purely a scheme of a rank outsider, in no way connected with glovemaking. Many, many trusts have no raison d'etre other than a stock-jobbing one.

It would be interesting to see a statement of the actual value of the steel plants on which a billion dollars of stock is said to have been put forth by the steel trust. Would a quarter of a billion be too small an estimate? At what price was the billion-dollar stock marketed? Between $250,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 there is room for many multi-millionaire fortunes. Mr. Pierpont Morgan was not a manufacturer of steel products of any kind. What interest had he in the business? He [illegible] millions by handling a small loan for the government. If he placed the billion dollars of trust stock at the same rate he would net $50,000,000, simply as agent. But he is more than agent in this case. He is a controlling force. What exigency of the steel trade made a trust necessary? Were not the manufacturers all getting rich; for example, Carnegie et al.? How the steel trust must sweat blood during this strike! Ah! Let us see. On the first announcement of the strike cable advices from London said U. S. Steel stock began to decline. Who holds the stock? The managers of course, held a controlling interest—something over half. That leaves nearly half a billion somewhere else, or whatever is not held by the inside party. Yesterday the preferred stock was quoted some points below par, and the other at 43. What relation do the daily profits in the steel trade, in the most active times bear to the amounts that may be netted by an inside party during the fluctuations in an enormous mass of securities like the trust stock? What is the effect upon the market of the ever changing situation of the strike? The managers of the trust manifest comparatively little anxiety about the strike. They have been cool throughout. They know that with the end of the strike the stock will rise. Are they buying at the low figures? Who will be in a position to profit by the rise? Probably not the "lambs." Wittingly or not the strikers are playing into the hands of the steel trust, and the trust is fulfilling the purpose of its creation—profitable stock speculation. So with many other trusts, and their creators are quite willing the discussion should remain in the region of economics, or on the high moral [illegible] on which these [illegible] diddlers filch from the people who buy stocks.

Your Washington correspondent yesterday suggested that congress will have to take up the trust question at the next session. They probably will, but who can suggest a remedy while there are millions of people ready to buy these bubbles. If nobody will buy such stocks 90 per cent of the so-called "industrials" will disappear from the market, and trusts will cease to be a menace to anything, or, possibly, to exist.

Yours respectfully,

R. M.

Combinations.

Unjust combinations in business may bring present gain to some, but in the end will injure all. On the other hand, associated effort may have higher and less selfish objects, and result in good to all concerned. Of this nature is the co-operative society of this city known as The Assurance Savings and Loan Association. It combines careful and conservative management with thoroughly modern, "up-to-date" methods. Its investment features insure entire safety, with handsome profit, and its loaning plans, with easy and rapid re-payment, are favored by all who know them.

Leaped From Window to Avoid Pursuer

A jealous husband ... created a lot of excitement at the Commercial hotel on South Cascade avenue early yesterday afternoon by chasing his alleged rival through the hotel. The pursuer was P I Thompson and it is said that he carried a revolver. Isaac Richardson was the fellow that had to jump out of a second story window to avoid being shot. Both men are colored.

The hotel is patronized by colored people and Richardson is employed there as a waiter. Thompson is a waiter at the Club House cafe and he and his wife live at the Commercial house.

The row occurred about ... o clock ... the object of his attack threatened to kill Richardson and then drew a revolver and chased him through the house. Richardson ran into a room occupied by two women and they shut and locked the door behind him. Before Thompson could break open the door Richardson jumped from the window which was on the second floor and escaped.

Richardson went to the office of Justice McClelland and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Thompson, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. The defendant was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frank Phillips and gave $300 bonds for his appearance in court this afternoon.

His grandfather Montgomery Hunt was one of the founders of Utica N Y and his father Ward Hunt was appointed associate justice of the United States supreme court, after having served several years on the bench of the court of appeals of New York state.

Ward Hunt was a graduate of Hamilton college. John S Hunt of this city is the only child of the deceased and the generation of the Hunt men fol... the profession of law. Mrs Hunt was present at the time of Mr Hunt's death. Her son left Colorado Springs last Thursday having been called east by a message stating his father's serious illness.

The Opening of Guinn Commercial College

Next Monday the fall term of Guinn Commercial college opens under the new management.

The enrollment of pupils already exceeds that of any other year in the school's history and a comparison with the enrollment of the largest Denver schools shows that none of them equals in number of pupils Guinn's.

Quite recently Mr J C Henager principal of the school has bought out the Vance School of Business and Shorthand thus adding greatly to the enrollment and equipment of the school. The old quarters have been enlarged by the addition of two rooms. The typewriter room now contains 15 new machines and a private diction room adds greatly to the advantages of this branch of the instruction.

Miss Mary Harding head teacher in this department has had much successful experience. Her assistants will be Miss Louise Breer and Miss Ethel Patterson. Both Mr J C Henager principal and Mr I A Hubert assistant principal are business college men of wide experience and highest reputation.

HER SON WANTED TO RUN AWAY

... last night at the request of his mother who said he was about to run away. The boy was found by Officer Shelby on South Tejon street.

It appears that McGuire's mother recently bought him a wheel and she says he sold or pawned it yesterday and was intending to get away from home. The boy is something of a smart Aleck and he was free with his tongue in police headquarters. He told the officers they would never find the wheel as he had hidden it. He said his mother wouldn't let him ride his wheel alone and he was tired of it.

SERIOUSLY HURT BY FALL FROM CAR

Silas Dorrell was the victim of a street car accident on the west side yesterday afternoon. The cause of the accident is not known. Dorrell somehow fell off the car and alighted on his head on the track.

The ambulance was called and arrived quickly and the man who was unconscious when picked up was taken to St Francis hospital. Dr Perkins attended to his injuries and he was resting easily last night. It is not known how serious the injuries will be but it is hoped that brain fever will not ensue.

HELEN B. CO. GETS RICH LEASE

On the Arapahoe Claim of the Jerry Johnson Co.—Reported Upon by William Weston Very Favorably—Another Damon Success Expected.

The strength and activity of Helen B. stock during the past few days has attracted a great deal of attention in mining circles and a good many have been wondering what was the reason thereof. The advance is due to the fact that the company has secured a long and valuable lease upon part of the Jerry Johnson company's property and also because the Helen B. Mineral hill holdings are showing up well.

Mr. William Weston, who examined the Arapahoe claim of the Jerry Johnson company for the Helen B. management speaks highly of the prospects of the property. The men at the head of the company's affairs are Messrs. Harwood and Stovell, Tom May and M. G. Barto. It will be remembered that these are the same men who made such a success out of the lease on the Damon where they opened up a big shoot of ore in a new part of the camp and where they were enabled to make a whole lot of money. Mr. Weston also reported upon this property and predicted the success which was fulfilled.

T[illegible] the Jerry Johnson company to the Helen B. company extends for a period of two years from the 14th day of this month and covers the north 40 feet of the Arapahoe claim. The property is on Ironclad hill and is quite close to the Plymouth Rock group and other claims belonging to the Stratton Cripple Creek Mining & Development company. The royalties arranged for are [illegible] per cent according to the value of the ore while work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Two shifts are now at work on the claim where a 50 foot shaft has been put down while a 15 horse power electric hoist has already been arranged for.

The ore opened up runs all the way from a few dollars to as much as $[illegible] per ton and it is stated that the ore has a much better showing than did the Damon at the same depth.

Mr. Weston was seen in regard to the matter and said:

"The strike is on the Arapahoe claim of the Jerry Johnson company and the Helen B. company has obtained a lease upon the northern 40 feet of this ground. They have been working quietly for some time and as soon as the papers signed they sent me to look at it for them. It may be remembered that they are the same men who first discovered the Damon mine and I was the first to examine [illegible] and make a report [illegible] for them when the shaft was only 50 feet deep and the prediction then made came out more than true.

"The big ore shoot [illegible] into the Jerry Johnson and it is the general opinion that the pending litigation between these two companies has hindered the proper development of what is still considered to be the making of a big mine.

"The vein on the Arapahoe is apparently the Damon and Jerry Johnson vein with the same course and identically the same rock and surface values and similar conditions in every way to those which existed on the Damon when I made the first examination of it. It shows a well defined fissure or track (apparently a shrinkage zone) up which came the thermal waters containing the silica and the gold values, and the breccia on each side of this fissure has been almost completely altered into a blue quartz, containing good values and showing some free gold. There is also a curious brecciated rock which contains good values and has the appearance of country rock which has been crushed into small pieces by the movement of the country along the shrinkage plane and then cemented [illegible], secondary quartz deposit. Grab samples of two dumps of this rock which have been taken out of the workings gave values of 1¼ ounces of gold to the ton. The country rock is the regular indurated breccia of Ironclad hill and the shaft is about 1,000 feet distant from the Damon and Jerry Johnson and as already stated in all probability on the same ore course or vein.

"Naturally a good deal of work will have to be done before it can be definitely ascertained how the ore makes and what is the extent of it but so far it has every appearance of being the top of another good mine. If Tom May and M. G. Barton can't find it nobody can."

An enormous amount of shaft sinking was done in the early days on the Bull Fight and various claims surrounding the Arapahoe and they were all started and subsequently kept going by the discovery of rich float and after years of rich ore in the workings but they never succeeded in discovering either the source of the float or permanent ore body.

Besides this valuable lease the Helen B. company also owns six acres of well located and patented territory on Terterfoot hill as well as 43 acres on the west slope of Rhyolite mountain. From the bottom of the Helen B. shaft a crosscut has been run and several veins encountered. One of them in particular makes a very fine [illegible] and will be developed further. Two shifts are employed on the property.

THE NEW TRUST CO.

Stock Subscribed for at $120 Per Share by Many of the Most Prominent and Influential Business Men in Colorado Springs.

The new trust company which is being organized by some of the most prominent business men of Colorado Springs is now well under way and promises to be one of the great business undertakings of this growing commercial city.

The names of some of the stockholders who have interested themselves in the corporation attest to the weight and importance of the new concern. Among the stockholders are J. Arthur Connell, William A. Otis, C. M. MacNeill, W. S. Stratton, Shove, Aldrich & Co., Edsall, Key & Co., Percy Hagerman, A. E. Carlton, P. B. Stewart, J. P. Lomeroy, Hall, Babbit & Thayer, Bert Davey and C. M. Williams.

The new trust company has not yet been christened word not having yet been received from the secretary of state as to what title can be used.

The capitalization of the company is $250,000. The stock has been subscribed for at $120 which gives a paid up surplus of $50,000. The business will be conducted in Stratton's new Mining Exchange block, a ten year lease having been secured on the Nevada and Pike's Peak avenue corner where there is floor space about 60x75 feet.

The trust company will do quite a variety of business, a savings and commercial bank being prominent among them. The company has made arrangements to [illegible] the El Paso Abstract company which is the oldest in this part of the state and has the most perfect set of records. Mr. E. F. Wright who has been secretary of the abstract company for several years past will continue with the new corporation but it is understood that a Mr. Eaton who founded the business and activity will retire.

The finest vault that can be secured will be placed in the building also a complete line of safety deposit boxes which it is thought will be one of the most regular features of the company. The vaults will be quite close to the exchange and handy for the brokers and business men who have offices in Mr. Stratton's two large buildings the postoffice and Mining Exchange blocks. The company will also register and transfer stocks, act as trustee, guardian, administrator, executor and do the business generally done by a trust company.

STRUCK OIL NEAR BOULDER

The Boulder Oil Company Encounters a Fine Grade of Oil at a Depth of 2,775 feet—Local Mining Men Interested

The Boulder Oil company has struck oil in their well three miles north of the city of Boulder at a depth of 2,775 feet. Before the bucket line broke [illegible] oil was hoisted to the surface [illegible] up [illegible] to be 50 per cent illuminating oil, a finer grade than is found in the majority of Pennsylvania wells. The [oil] was ignited and burned freely. Before any more can be hoisted it will be necessary to secure more line and grapple for the lost bucket and rope.

It will be two months on Sept. 1 since the company started drilling. They erected a [illegible] foot derrick, installed a good plant of machinery and put two shifts of men to work. There have been no delays and now after two oil sand strata have been passed the third has been entered and found productive. It is the deepest well in the state, excepting the dry wells which have been put down. Drilling is to be resumed after the well is clear of obstructions and the superintendent thinks that a gusher may be obtained although the management would prefer to have simply a good pumping proposition. It is not yet [illegible] to estimate [illegible].

Great excitement already exists in the neighborhood of the strike which was made on the McKinzie ranch and if a gusher should result Boulder will see lively times. Mr. W. J. Bryan is reported to be negotiating for lands in the vicinity and several deals are pending. The company is considering leasing the half [illegible] of their property.

The Boulder Oil company is controlled by Denver and Colorado Springs mining men of whom Mr. G. S. Cockburn of this city is the secretary. The officers were all present when the first bucket of oil was hoisted and will go up to Boulder today or tomorrow, to watch further developments.

DEAL IN LEADVILLE MINES

An important mining deal was [illegible] worth [illegible] of Leadville [illegible] 12 miles from Leadville was sold by L. N. Turner to prominent capitalists of St. Louis whose names are not made public for $30,000. The deal was put through by M[illegible] Hatfield [illegible] district and has been a good producer for [illegible] developed very largely but the showing made on that portion which has been opened up is so favorable that the purchasers intend to do quite extensive development work.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

[illegible] on the Davison lease of the Cripple Creek Consolidated company. These lessees broke into ore some days ago and have been following it up with encouraging results. They are now getting assays as high as $51.60 in gold to the ton and they reported yesterday that some of the ore was running six ounces although as yet the values are not very reg[ular] [illegible] on the north block of the Colorado Boss claims Nos. 1 and 2 at a depth of 40 feet from the surface. The vein has a north and south course and dips to the east. The Hollister lease is drifting on a good vein in the work being prosecuted from the tunnel level but no ore has yet been opened here in Consolidated ground.

DEVELOPMENT ON LAST DOLLAR BY THE LESSEES

Williams and associates who are leasing on a block of the Last Dollar property on Bull hill are pushing development with two shifts of men in the 500 foot level which has just been started. In the 400-foot level they opened a rich streak of ore and they are now following this in the bottom ore. The indications are encouraging. There is quite an amount of low grade ore opened in the 400 foot level and it is hoped that when this shoot is cut below it will be rich enough to stope out. The company is still meeting with great success in the deep [illegible] at a depth of 1,150 feet from the surface.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 2704 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S. and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. Bad blood makes bad complexions.

SSS purifies and invigorates the old and makes new rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

GOLD COIN AND OTHER DIVIDENDS PAID YESTERDAY.

The Gold Coin company yesterday paid its regular monthly dividend of three cents per share on the 1,000,000 shares for which the company is capitalized. The dividend amounted to $30,000 and brought the total which the company has distributed up to $[illegible]. [illegible] United Mines company paid its dividend of one cent per share on the 1,900,000 shares outstanding and the New Zealand company distributed $7,650 which is also at the rate of one cent per share on the outstanding stock. The total amount distributed yesterday by these companies comes to $56,650. They are all controlled by the Woods Investment company of Victor.

ACTIVE WORK IN BIG INDIAN TUNNEL

The development work which was recently started in the Big Indian tunnel of Straub mountain is progressing nicely, and drifting on the quartz seam in which the values were first found promises to result favorably. The seam is now about six inches in width but it is expected that it will widen out as drifting proceeds. A good force of men is being employed. The property at the present time notwithstanding the fact that some of the ore shipped returned pay values is regarded only as a prospect but at the same time the showing there has attracted many prospectors and operators who are now working in this vicinity. This is in a section of the camp which has always been looked on as promising but which has no yet produced a mine.

WHAT NEW AND OLD LESSEES ARE DOING

C. J. Wilson and associates who have just been granted a lease on a block of the Pinnacle company's property, have just started work in the 25 foot level. A very heavy production was at one time made from this portion of the mine and the new lessees hope to again open ore [illegible].

A station has been cut at a depth of 250 feet in the portion of the Blue Bell company's ground which is being operated by George Kurt. From the upper levels of his workings he mined a little ore and he looks forward with confidence to the developments at this depth.

The shaft on the Katinka's August Flower claim is approaching a depth of 700 feet where a new level will be run to open the ore which was found to be very profitable by the lessees when it was mined in the 600 foot level. The Blue Bell company owns a large block of Katinka stock.

GOOD STRIKE IN PHARMACIST GROUND

A good strike has just been made in the property of the Pharmacist Gold Mining company by Lessee McDade at a depth of [illegible] feet from the surface. The shoot was entered a few days ago but has improved quite steadily in value until it now averages from $60 to $120 in gold to the ton for two feet of the ore and the shoot appears to be widening. A shipment was sent out from this level a week ago and returns which have been received indicate values of $40 in gold to the ton. A shipment is now being sacked from the new strike and it is expected that 10 tons will be sent out from the property today. The Pharmacist ground is being very actively developed by several sets of lessees and is maintaining a good production.

SINKING WILL BE RESUMED ON THE DAMON

It is the intention of the Damon company [illegible] to a depth of 250 feet but even at that point [illegible] is unbroken up the [illegible] is profitable in mining although the property has been making a little money for some time. It is the intention of the management to sink to an additional depth of 300 feet. The mine at the present time is making a production of between 12 and 15 tons a day which is averaging about $25 in gold to the ton. The mine still has a good amount of ore tied up in litigation which it may [illegible] [illegible] to prove up further but it is generally recognized by those who know this portion of Bull hill that the property will make an important mine when it is once free of legal trouble, and when greater depth is gained.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Aug 26 The stock market had a more thorough test today than [illegible] time since the rise in prices set in. The result was not altogether conclusive. The [illegible] stocks was considerably augmented as was expected. A [illegible] advance for two weeks and an [illegible] of interest and increasing [illegible] stocks may always be depended upon to produce this result. [illegible] the tendency of the professional traders [illegible] accumulating stocks and carefully nursing the market [illegible] so as to make sure of a portion of their profits. This process was very obvious during the first hour of the market today which was the most active of the day. Some recessions in prices resulted but the market on the whole took the realizing very well and no serious [illegible] were made upon prices. Afterwards there were renewed advances here and the rest of the market gave the appearance generally of being still in the control of the bulls. Buying demand however became languid and then almost torpid and the market [illegible] inerable to attack by the bears. In the last hour prices were [illegible] A substantial rally followed but this again proved somewhat short lived and the closing was irregular and quite active with speculative sentiment manifestly much unsettled.

The London Market.

New York Aug 26—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says:

The stock market was brisker today on an accumulation of orders over the holiday. American stocks were most active and opened above parity. They improved all day and closed at the top. There was a fair amount of activity but mainly of a professional nature. Atchison and Erie were most prominent. Silver looks like relapsing.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Colorado Springs.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Mr J J McCarty of 18 South Corona street formerly of the Gazette says: "For five or six years I was annoyed with backache accompanied by slight urinary trouble. I took more than one medicine said to be a sure cure for kidney complaint and like a great many others in Colorado Springs I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones & Wellington's drug store 109 N. Tejon street expecting the results from their treatment to be as unsatisfactory as those from other preparations I had taken in the past. The benefit received justifies me in saying that anyone suffering from kidney complaint or backache will find in this preparation something which acts differently and more effectively than anything heretofore tried."

CROSBY-EHRICH SYNDICATE'S MARKET LETTER

Colorado Springs Colo Aug 24 1901

The mining stock market has remained in a fairly strong and healthy condition since the issuance of our last market letter and prevailing indications are for the continuance of this state of affairs. Trading is slowly but surely assuming its old proportions and the difference between the total daily sales now and those of a month or so ago is quite large. The greatest fluctuation in prices seems to be in the mines list, some of the old favorites having made rapid rise but in the end has left the price of the security several fractions to the better. This is especially noticeable with El Paso Consolidated. Early in the week this stock advanced rapidly under large buying orders and the price reached 55 cents. A quantity of the dividend stock made its appearance as anticipated and the [illegible] much of this dividend stock will be thrown upon the market is a question. There are a number who will naturally take advantage of the present opportunity to dispose of their dividend stock at prevailing figures and reap an enormous profit. Many however have great faith in the future of the company and will no doubt refrain from selling at least for a time.

Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

About 18 months ago Mr. W. S. Manning of Albany N Y widely known in trade circles as the representative of the Albany Chemical Co was suffering from a protracted attack of diarrhoea. "I tried Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," he says "and obtained immediate relief. I cheerfully recommend this medicine to those similarly afflicted." This remedy is not an astringent and for that reason no bad effects follow its use. It checks the diarrhoea by curing the disease which causes it. It never fails and is pleasant to take. The Ladies' Favorite.

There are three things about the Burlington's Chicago Special which commend it to the favorable attention of woman travelers.

One is the size of the toilet rooms in the sleeping cars—they are nearly twice as large as the generality of such apartments.

Another is the practice in vogue on Burlington dining cars of presenting lady patrons with flowers.

The third feature is that sleeping car porters are under instructions to ask lady passengers within 15 minutes of the train's departure from Denver—whether or not they want pillows.

Information About Colorado

Hon J. Sterling Morton, ex-secretary of agriculture, is now editor of The Conservative, a weekly paper published at Nebraska City Neb. Here is what he says of Colorado in the issue of that paper dated August 22, 1901.

Two weeks among the mountains mines, cities and ranches of Colorado will convince any thoughtful reasoning man that the resources of that commonwealth are inexhaustible. From gold and silver and copper and coal down to cantaloupe melons sugar beets, plums, peaches and grapes Colorado is miraculous. There is wealth in vast diversity all over that mountainous state and health in every breath of its deliciously pure and exhilarating climate.

GENERAL

Open Season—Deer and antelope with horns August 15 to November 5 elk [illegible] October [illegible] to November 5 limited to one deer one antelope and one elk or two deer and two antelope. It is provided in the law that the evidence of sex must not be removed. Sage hens turkeys grouse August 15 to November 1. Ducks geese curlews [illegible] cranes swans and snipes, September 1 to April 15 season opens September 15 at 7 000 feet above sea level. Pigeons and dove season opened July 1 last and continues until September 30. One person is allowed to kill 40 ducks and 25 of all other birds each day and may have 100 ducks in possession at any one time or 50 of all other birds. There is no open season on buffalo mountain sheep [illegible] It is well to abide by the above laws governing the killing of game in Colorado.

Berry Crop Holds Out Well—The berry crop for 1901 is now about all marketed in Colorado. As compared with last year the acreage was larger but the yield per acre was proportionately smaller making the amount of [illegible] both years. The price received this season will average about 10 per cent more than last year. The quality of the crop was good and the losses in shipment have been very slight. The full returns cannot be had for some time yet although a total valuation of the berry crop from this point will not vary far from $15 000.—(Pueblo States man.

As a Winter Resort—The Evening Star has always maintained that Colorado was as good if not a better winter resort than summer resort. As the latter the centennial state is world famed. It is world famed because the railways and the enterprising citizens of the state have advertised the fact that it is a great summer resort state. This advertising has brought thousands of tourists to Colorado to enjoy the cool mountain air away from the blistering heat of the prairie states and the large [illegible] and these thousands have advertised the fact to their thousands of their friends until the accommodations in this state are scarce large enough to accommodate three fourths of the people that come here to spend the summer or a portion of the summer.

[illegible] of building the best hotel west of the Mississippi the Antlers at Colorado Springs. In an interview yesterday Mr W. S. Dunning the assistant manager of this popular hostelry, said to a Star representative. It will be necessary to build an addition of 100 rooms to this hotel within the next two years. This is a conservative estimate. The advertising that Colorado has had has brought the people here and they are satisfied. This hotel is the largest in the state yet its capacity is taxed to the utmost all the time. Everything is the very best and proportionate [illegible] word of complaint. What is money when compared with health and comfort anyway?

Then Mr Dunning went on and said that the Antlers intended to be as crowded in winter as in summer for the very simple reason that the climate of Colorado is as good in winter as it is in summer. We don't have blizzards we don't have the heavy snow storms and we don't have the frigid temperature that the eastern states are cursed with.

Now how are we to bring about the consummation that will mean millions of dollars to the state of Colorado every year?

Simple enough. It will require some money at the start just as it required some money at the start to make Colorado a summer resort state. Let the railways that will do the business and the chambers of commerce all over the state and the cities that will be benefited raise a fund that will amount to something. Put this fund into advertising that will plaster the east so effectually that they will scarcely have breathing space left [illegible] articles put these articles [illegible]

Colorado has to offer in a winter climate. Let them know that there is no state in this great union that has the climate that Colorado has.

This widespread advertising together with rates on the part of railways [illegible] bring a thousand people [illegible] to Colorado during the early part of the winter. They will write their [illegible] home. The advertising will spread as the chain letter spreads.

[illegible] will not be able to accommodate the visitors to the state during the cold season. People of means will come here. They will decide to make their homes here. Wealthy easterners will retire to Colorado to spend the remainder of their lives and incidentally their money. Investors will come here. It will make grand old Colorado blossom like the rose and enjoy a continuous prosperity that will be the envy of the entire United States.

This is a practical matter. It is a business proposition from beginning to end. It is a matter that should be taken up by every chamber of commerce in Colorado and by the great railroads that have done so much to make this state what it is.

Begin now. It is yet time to make the start for this winter fast approaching. Let us have the same tourist travel in the winter that we have in the summer. Let us make Colorado the most famous state in all this union. It is well worthy of the fame for where is there a commonwealth with the natural grandeur the unexcelled climate, the generous and prosperous people and with the progressiveness characteristic of the state?

By all means keep something going on. Start the advertisement of Colorado as a winter resort. It will be [illegible] Creek Star.

Mountain Climbing—Mountain climbing in Colorado should be encouraged. Advantageous peaks should be selected and parties made of the [illegible] that may be obtained in order that they may be compared with those of the European Alps which Americans and Englishmen pay millions of dollars every year to see. While Colorado scenery is different it is not less grand and frequently much more beautiful and the man who has seen the Alps has not seen Colorado or anything like it and we see no reason why some of these millions should not be turned this way. But before we can get them we must risk our necks in scaling our lofty peaks and describe the dangers and hardships of ascent and descent with a vividness that will make the periodical visitor of the Matterhorn feel whimsical.—(Breckenridge [illegible]

Farmers Make Money—This is a year when most of our farmers will make money. Potatoes bid fair to bring $1.00 to $1.50 per sack at which price a very ordinary crop will pay for the land on which they were grown. The prospects are that the bulk of the wheat crop which is very large will be sold at a price not far from 60 cents a bushel. The hay crop is good and some of it will be fed to lambs part to cattle and part of it to horses. The beet crop about Windsor is excellent and will surely be a money maker.—(Windsor Leader.

Colorado Coal—The report of the geological survey on the output of coal in the United States for 1900 shows interesting increases in several western states. The total coal product of Colorado for 1900 was 5 182 [illegible] tons as compared [illegible] preceding. Wyoming's output for 1900 was 4 014 602 tons. In 1899 it was but 3 836 [illegible] tons. New Mexico's output increased from 1 052 [illegible] tons in 1899 to 1 292 883 in 1900. These increases compare favorably with the total increase of the United States of from 253 732 [illegible] tons in 1899 to 269 684 281 in 1900.

Colorado's Fruit Crop—Evidence from the fruit growing section of the state shows that the fruit crop this year will be exceptionally large. Notwithstanding the long period of hot dry weather Colorado orchards have thrived because they are irrigated. Under irrigation Colorado farmers and horticulturists can smile at drouth for they are independent and have the means of making their crops grow whatever the season be in that particular says the Denver Republican.

Assured of sufficient water Colorado fruit is made all the better by the bright sunshine [illegible] ever favor than that which is grown under humid conditions. This is seen particularly in the peaches of Grand Junction and other parts of the western slope. The fruit of that section has long had a local fame and it is known to some extent beyond the borders of the state.

Comparatively little of the area available for fruit growing has been planted in orchards as yet except in a few localities, but it is well known that a large acreage on each side of the mountains could be used in that way with profit. In northern Colorado the temperature will not admit of peach production but in the Arkansas valley and in the valleys of the Uncompahgre Gunnison and the Grand on the western slope peaches can be grown to perfection. In other localities attention must be directed to hardier species in the production of which Colorado horticulturists will make large profits in the future.

[illegible] promises to be large is encouraging. It means that the Grand valley for instance. In the midst of which Grand Junction is situated will receive large returns for its crop of peaches and other fruits and that prosperity will prevail there during the coming season. Gradually as the orchard area is extended the value of each year's crop will be enlarged and it will make business good and the people prosperous every year. In case the supply exceeds the demand of the state new markets will be found outside Colorado just as has been done for the [illegible] of California fruit [illegible] all over the [illegible]—(Red Cliff Blade.

Big Nickel Find—This week John K. Wolf and William Miller who have been prospecting in Fremont county about a half mile north of the Custer county line in the Gem district at depth of ten feet on the [illegible] Lode encountered a deposit of iron heavily charged with nickel. The shaft is 5x7 feet and the bottom is solid ore and it [illegible] in conjunction with the development made justify the belief that a wonderfully large nickel deposit has been encountered. To the Editor of the Gazette.—I am a Kansas farmer and I have had enough of grasshoppers, cyclones and hot [illegible] days. I am looking for good location for cattle raising and have been recommended to the Grand river valley. At what railway stations should I stop to gain an idea of the country? Where is the Plateau creek country and from what station is it most easily reached? Is there open range for cattle all the year around or if not what provision is made for winter feeding? I have four sons and I am a veteran of the big war. If I am suited my sons expect to follow me to Colorado. Col [illegible] of Colorado Springs knows me well and was my commanding officer in 1864.

1. Western Colorado is in general a gradual slope from the mountains towards the west. The valleys are narrow and deep. From the edge of the streams one sees on either side what appear to be ranges of hills or mountains but they are in reality usually the edges of the table lands or flat tops also called in Spanish mesas [illegible] to ten or twenty or even more miles [illegible] Farming begins at near 9 000 feet above sea level and there are some hay ranches at a higher altitude. These upper ranches are chiefly devoted to raising milk cows and hay for the mining cities and towns. General farming becomes practicable at [illegible] 000 feet and below 6 000 the land is considered to be good for fruit. The great forage crop is alfalfa. The summer range is on the tops of the mesas already mentioned and winter feeding is general in all the western part of Colorado. In many cases the cattle owners are not farmers but buy their hay from the ranchmen and drive the cattle from place to place to get the winter feed. The prevailing price at some distance from the railroad is $4 a ton at which price the ranchman also undertakes to feed the alfalfa from the stacks to the cattle as needed. The rental for hay ranches is about $1 annually for each ton. Eagle [illegible] farming and grazing country. The Plateau valley is most easily reached from De Beque. It is quite a distance off the main line of travel the lower end of the valley being closed by a canon that makes access to the valley difficult. The Roaring Fork valley around Carbondale and the valley of the North Fork of the Gunnison and the valley of the Uncompahgre above Montrose are especially good alfalfa regions in western Colorado.

No. 4. We understand there are a great many acres of good timber land in Archuleta county that may be entered as such and paid for at government rates. Geological reports also show that a great deal of land is oil bearing land and this being the case it can be entered as a placer location and paid for at government rates. There are several natural oil springs in the county proving the existence of oil.

Woolen Mill for Florence—Some weeks ago a gentleman named J. R. Henry made a tour of Colorado and Utah in the interests of the Model Woolen mills of Indianapolis looking for a location for a western branch in close proximity to the wool raising centers of the west. While he found that Utah was a great sheep raising country there were plenty of woolen mills there to handle the output of wool and the best territory he found was in eastern Colorado. An investigation of the towns followed and inducements offered greatly influenced him in favor of Florence and [illegible] matter was broached to the city through Messrs. Lutes & Jack. This week a proposition was received from D. V. Chenoweth manager of the [illegible] which was submitted to the business men's association. Good Prices—The potato raisers at Greeley and vicinity expect to make a great deal of money this year out of their potato crop. The prospects are good for the biggest crop ever harvested there and the prices will be unusually high.

MONTEZUMA

A Trip Well Worth Taking—The Journal manager returned Tuesday evening from a trip to the ruins of the cliff dwellers on Mesa Verde some twenty miles south of Cortez. The trip though somewhat tiresome to persons unused to camp life and horseback riding is none the less a highly interesting and enjoyable one full of novelty and unusual diversion for every moment.

There were seven in the party—Mr and Mrs George L. Harrison of Chicago, Mrs. S. C. Curry of Aurora Ill, Mr and Mrs Charles F. Painter, Miss Stella Painter and Mrs James I. Allen of Telluride Saturday noon they were met at Dolores by S. P. Thomas who makes a specialty of conducting parties to the cliff dwellings and who is especially fitted and equipped for the business. Under his care and direction the trip is a most comfortable and pleasant as it is possible to make a trip on horseback over rugged mountain trails, and of the several routes to the cliff houses that via Cortez and across Mesa Verde is the shortest and most interesting of all. The drive by stage from Dolores where the railroad is left, is a most beautiful and interesting two hours [illegible] views from the high plateau separating the Dolores from the Montezuma valley taking in the last named valley for thirty miles, the picturesque Mesa Verde [illegible] the distance for at least a hundred miles the dim outlines of the Blue mountains in Utah and numerous peaks in Arizona and New Mexico is unsurpassed in the entire world. From Cortez the second day there is a drive of five miles to the base of the bluffs leading up on Mesa Verde where saddle animals are taken.

To the trip and to camp at the Spruce tree ruins there is just enough of [illegible] novitiate at horseback riding to forget [illegible] those who [illegible] the ancient ruins [illegible] never tire of studying the interesting piles and contemplating the habits and customs of the prehistoric race who built them. It is a pity that the government did not years ago take steps to preserve these ruins protect them from vandalism and provide a way making them more easy of access [illegible] and the hundreds of [illegible] interested in antiquity. It is too late now to prate of vandalism as the [illegible] have done their worst and carried [illegible] the last look of [illegible] the mechanical and artistic skill of this extinct people. But there is still time to protect the ruins from further defacement and to construct a [illegible] making the region accessible to [illegible] although the elimination of the horseback ride over the rude trails will take with it much of the romance of the trip.

Under the guidance of Mr Thomas and his assistant Mr Joe Kelley the [illegible] is the expedition full of fun [illegible] that with every foot of [illegible] personally he pointed [illegible] the jargon of the Ute and Navajo Indians hands of [illegible] and there [illegible] camping outfits and all the paraphernalia necessary on such a trip. Thomas, Cortez Colo.—(Telluride Journal.

Beets at Fowler—Agriculturist D. L. Jones and his assistant Mr Wilson have measured each field of growing beets tributary to Fowler and report 551 acres the most of which are now looking well. [illegible] the growth has been good and the yield will be fully up to the average. The cultivation by the growers has been much more thorough this year than last and the interest being displayed by the farmers indicates the favor in which the beet crop of the valley is being regarded. Mr Jones expects the acreage to be increased to 1,200 for the coming year of [illegible] in the Fowler district.—(Fowler Tribune.

Sugar City Nuggets—The cantaloupes raised here will be known in the eastern parts as Sugar City nuggets and we predict the nuggets will be unsurpassed by any melons grown in the United States.

Henry Oxnard president of the American Beet Sugar company estimates that the total yield of sugar beets in Colorado for the year 1901 will be 300 000 sacks of 100 pounds each or within 50 000 sacks of a sufficient quantity to meet the entire demand of Colorado for sugar during twelve months.—(Sugar City Herald.

A Fertile Valley Plant—Postmaster Hayes down at Gabbert has a garden which would make a down east Yankee green with envy. From the appearance of the soil in this region one might be skeptical on this point but the fact remains that with water in season no land even in California will produce finer vegetables than the Uncompahgre valley. Large fine looking potatoes and cabbage of but eight weeks growth yet almost matured promise an abundant yield. Mr Hayes has 54 acres in alfalfa on the east side of the road for which he has refused $3 000. A similar field opposite is held at a higher figure. A farm in that section is a better investment than United States bonds.—(Ouray Plaindealer.

Bears are Plenty—P. M. Deeds of Frying Pan was in the city yesterday, greeting Aspen friends. Mr Deeds has a fund of bear stories in reserve and regaled his friends with a few lively ones. He says that beyond a doubt the bear population of Frying Pan is increasing at a ratio that keeps pace with the increase of the district in all other ways. It is not uncommon for a bear to visit the habitation of people unannounced who are out camping. These clandestine visits are usually made early in the morning or late at night and Mr Bruin generally makes off with a can of honey or a side of bacon. The bears of Frying Pan are liable to become as much a nuisance and pest as the mosquito of New Jersey.—(Aspen Times.

PUEBLO

Pueblo Steadily Growing—Again Pueblo smelters distance any one town in the state in the production of gold silver lead and copper and having the only steel and iron plant in the state makes Pueblo truly the smelter city of Colorado and the west.

Pueblo smelters produced 403,4[illegible] ounces of gold worth $8 332 870.

Pueblo smelters produced 14 706 744 ounces of silver worth $9,009 354.

Pueblo smelters produced 8 857 193 pounds of copper worth $1 355 672.

Pueblo smelters produced 16 014 000 pounds of lead worth $6 831 580.

This makes a total output for the Pueblo smelters in dollars $25 616 426 for 1900.

The total output of the Pueblo steel works for 1900 was 26 4[illegible] 5 854 pounds of pig iron 16 141 601 pounds of spikes nuts and bolts 3 417 921 pounds of plate 634 6[illegible]1 pounds of merchant iron 5 355,600 pounds of spiegel 240 700 457 pounds of steel rails 22,262,144 pounds of castings and 16 070 133 pounds of water pipe the total market value of which was $5 684 620.

This makes a grand total output for Pueblo's three smelters and steel works of $31 3[illegible] 046.

The pay rolls of the above plants [illegible] The railroads [illegible] handled 1 0[illegible] 600 freight cars and 115 450 passenger cars during 1900.

These railroads paid out in wages $[illegible] for that year.

The other industries in the city have pay rolls aggregating $1 000 000 annually making for the factories of Pueblo a pay roll of about $7 000 000 or nearly $20 000 a day.

It is estimated that the commercial business of Pueblo for 1900 was $[illegible] 000 000.

[illegible] of $5 4[illegible] 519.

Taken all together Pueblo is still the banner town of the state in output of products from the smelters.

If the figures given by the Denver Republican are correct then Pueblo's smelters treated about one half of all the gold silver copper and lead produced in the state.

The Guggenheim smelter in this city alone outputted nearly as much as all the smelters in Denver combined.

The total mineral output of Colorado for 1900 was $66 000 000—$30 000 000 gold $13 000,000 silver and the remainder copper lead iron and coal.

Pueblo stands pre-eminently at the head of the state in the treatment of copper the output of the Guggenheim plant being larger than all of the other Colorado plants [illegible] times over.

Again it is [illegible] that this is the natural smelting point [illegible] Rocky mountains and the [illegible] Smelting company is no doubt [illegible] this out.

The commercial houses in Pueblo enjoyed a phenomenal trade [illegible] many of them nearly double business over the year before [illegible] Opinion.

State Fair at Pueblo—[illegible] this early date there is [illegible] that the State fair to [illegible] at Pueblo on September 23 and 27 will be the most [illegible] position ever held by any association Colorado. The grounds are [illegible] cated and well supplied with [illegible] fences for the comfort and pleasure of both the exhibitor and visitor.

The Teacher's Duty

You teachers are now engaged in nerve-racking and patience-trying school room duties.

Are you ready for the work?
How about your eyes?
You know they bothered you last year, and 'tisn't likely they'll be any better.
Waiting and hoping never betters ailing vision.
Our glasses do.
Your eyes are bread winners; "Master minds and willing hands" are no good without them. They are the only avenue to education, improvement and success. Can you afford to neglect them?

Of course that's easy to say about Coffee—a good many say it, but a good many don't have it. Ours is a genuine M. & J. blend, our own blend—and it's always uniform and always the best.

Besides the quality, the price is astonishing—it's only 35c per pound.

Pan American Exposition

Buffalo, N. Y., May 1 to Nov. 1.

In its court settings, architectural, fountain and electrical effects, sculptural adornment, horticultural and floral embellishment, and color decorations this exposition will surpass all others.

To enjoy its charms, with the added attraction of Niagara Falls will be a most delightful privilege.

As the only double track railway from the West to Buffalo (meaning greater safety and dispatch in traveling) and by reason of its furnishing the most complete and frequent service of any line, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern with its eight through trains daily, including the only daylight train, will prove the most desirable route for exposition travel.

In making it your choice you will travel well. It takes you through the richest and fairest portion of the Middle States, including the beautiful Western Reserve country with nearly 300 miles of ride along the picturesque south shore of Lake Erie.

All tickets over this route afford use of steamers either way between Cleveland and Buffalo, also stop at Chautauqua on return trip within limit of ticket.

"Book of Trains" containing full information about Lake Shore service free on application to F. M. BYRON, G. W. A., Chicago.
